

Walter Expected To Head New Committees

By Leonard Randolph

It's been nearly a quarter of a century now since Francis E. Walter—known to most of the people in the 15th Congressional District as "Tad"—went to Washington for the first time.

In the 12 terms he has served as this district's U. S. Representative, "Tad" Walter has built up an impressive record of achievement.

More important to the voters in Monroe, Carbon and Northampton counties today, however, is the seniority which the veteran Congressman's length of service has built up for him over the years.

In newspaper advertisements before the election, Walter reminded voters with a simplicity and economy of language which is nearly a trademark with him, that "seniority is power." The phrase has seldom been more applicable or true than it is in Walter's case.

A Congressman's "seniority" increases with each term he serves. And, as his "seniority" grows, so does his power, prestige and influence as both a spokesman for his party and his government in general.

When a representative first goes to Congress he is given membership on minor, relatively "unimportant" committees. As a beginner, he holds little or no influence over either the committee or his colleagues.

Each time he is returned to Congress by the voters in his district, the "importance" of his committee assignments and the scope of his influence within the committee increases.

Today, "Tad" Walter is the 17th ranking member of the House of Representatives—meaning that only 16 Congressmen have served longer than he has.

Because of this, Walter is the only man in the House to hold the chairmanship of more than one committee. Until this time he has been head of both the Un-American Activities Committee and of the specially-created committee on the study of immigration. His service on the former has brought him consistently into the national spotlight.

Last night it became apparent that the Democratic party had retained control of the House of Representatives.

In the light of that fact, Rep. Walter's power and prestige are increased to a marked degree. Besides the chairmanships he already holds—if he wishes to retain them—he will lead or chair two other committees, each in its own field the most powerful and influential in the House.

The first of these will be the Patronage Committee which, as its name implies, serves as general overseer on patronage matters within the House. Walter is in line to become chairman of this committee.

Infinitely more important, in terms of government itself and of legislation, is the all-powerful House Judicial Committee. This is the committee through which nearly 65 percent of all legislation presented for House consideration must pass.

Rep. Walter will be the ranking member of the Judicial Committee. As such his voice may be expected to carry impressive weight in the consideration of any bills before they are submitted to members as a group.

Walter's campaigns for each of his past 12 two-year terms as Congressman from the 15th district have shown him to be a consistent vote-getter. Most of the time he has run ahead of the party ticket as a whole.

He maintained this strength in Tuesday's election, racking up 8,289 and carrying all but nine of Monroe County's 34 districts by substantial margins. He ran ahead of all the rest of the Democratic ticket.

Recalls All Troops

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 8 (UPI)—South Korea recalled all troops from Pusan today and ordered them restricted to their unit areas.

IN THE FLESH — Enthusiastic Democratic workers of Middle Smithfield Township weren't content to wear their party symbol, the donkey, on their coat lapels—they brought one to the polls and tied it to a nearby tree as a gentle reminder to voters. How did the public respond? Democrats outpolled the Republicans in every race except for the presidency. Mrs. Thomas Knittle, owner of the donkey, rode it to the polling place at Coolbaugh, along Route 209, where Alvin DeWitt snapped this picture. She was accompanied by Edward Howe, who led the animal.

Eisenhower Landslide Fails To

Put GOP In Control Of Congress

Governor Races Split Down Middle

Francis E. Walter

In the district as a whole his margin was even more marked—he had a lead of nearly 14,000 over his GOP opponent in complete unofficial returns.

But Walter's "vote appeal" is even more impressive when it is judged in the light of two other pertinent factors.

One of these is, of course, the "Eisenhower landslides". Although Eisenhower carried all three of Walter's counties, the Democratic congressman established an early, strong lead over George Berg and maintained it straight through.

In Monroe County Walter earned 2,897 more votes than the 5,392 cast for Adlai Stevenson, at the head of the Democratic ticket.

A second major factor in any discussion of Walter's appeal as a vote-getter would have to be a comparison between his personal slate of triumphs and those of the other ranking House members.

Nearly all of the 16 men who have higher "seniority" than Walter come from Southern states. Each time they are nominated, they are virtually assured of election because they are running on the Democratic ticket in a solidly-Democratic area.

Most of the time they run without any opposition whatever. In the few cases in which a Republican nominee runs, the opposition is barely more than mild.

In Walter's case, there has been a hard and concerted drive to unseat him during recent years on the part of the Republican party. The opponents have been varied. During recent years the GOP has drawn on a large battery of local orators to try to whittle away Walter's popularity. Each time they have been unsuccessful.

First in 1952 and again in 1956, the Republicans found that they could not defeat Walter even with the magic of Eisenhower's name at the top of their slate.

Regardless of party, voters in Monroe, Carbon and Northampton seem happy to take the few extra seconds to "split tickets" for "Tad."

French Storm Red Quarters

PARIS, Nov. 7 (UPI)—Thousands of infuriated Frenchmen shouting "freedom of Hungary," to day stormed and set afire the headquarters of the French Communist party.

Then they marched to the plant of the Red newspaper L'Humanité, shouting anti-Soviet slogans and singing the "Marseillaise."

Police, firemen and Communist defenders held them to a standstill.

About 30 persons were injured.

The violence climaxed a day of mass anti-Communist demonstrations in France and elsewhere in Europe on the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Five former French premiers led tens of thousands in Paris in a parade through the Arch of Triumph, protesting ruthless Soviet repression of Hungarian patriots. The ex-premiers did not join the violence.

Reports Spread

Reports spread immediately that pro-Communist counter-demonstrations were being organized.

Communist-led unions were reported planning strikes in revenge for the damage to party headquarters.

The explosion of anti-Communist feeling was the most demonstrative ever seen here. It was touched off by public revulsion of Soviet brutality in Budapest and by Soviets threats to France for French intervention in Egypt.

The party headquarters and the Red newspapers are in neighboring buildings near the Bourse, the Paris stock exchange section.

Police were passive as the attackers, including many youth of student age, smashed through the steel doors of the party headquarters and swarmed up stairs, brushing aside Communists trying to defend themselves with fire extinguishers.

The attackers began tossing bottles and documents and furniture through smashed windows.

Thousands were jammed outside. Some but matches to the littered tongues of flame swept up through the first two floors inside.

Force Path

No firemen appeared at first. They finally forced a path through the crowd and began battling the flames.

A part of the crowd then turned against L'Humanité. A smaller crowd using garbage pail covers as shields also tried to storm a Red print shop nearby.

Attackers throwing bottles and Reds defending the L'Humanité building calmed after police and firemen forced their way in.

After a half hour firemen had the party headquarters fire under control, but the littered square looked like a battlefield.

U.N. General Assembly To Form Police Force For Immediate Use In Troubled Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 7 (UPI)—The U.N. General Assembly voted tonight to create an international emergency police force for immediate use in keeping peace in the Middle East.

It acted in the face of two complications:

Republicans Win Majorities In Both State House, Senate

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7 (UPI)—Pennsylvania Republicans won clear majorities in the House and Senate yesterday and with their victory the responsibility for enacting a solution to the 1057 tax puzzle.

Gov. Leader, a Democrat, will have to deal with a solid GOP majority of 127 members in the House, where all revenue raising measures must originate. One hundred six votes are necessary to pass bills.

On New Year's Day, when the 142nd regular session convenes, Republicans will be just able to organize the Senate by the margin of one vote above the constitutional majority of 26. Democrats will have 23 seats.

During the last session Democrats ran the House with a seven-seat edge of six members above the necessary 106. Republicans controlled the Senate 26-24.

Big Assist

President Eisenhower's landslide triumph in the state carried every one of 75 Republican House incumbents back into office. It also helped defeat 29 Democratic incumbents including Rep. John F. Stank (Northumberland), a 24-year veteran and J. P. Moran (Allegheny), a 20-year veteran.

Dispatches from the battle-scarred city astride the canal's Mediterranean gateway reported continuing exchanges between Egyptian snipers and Allied occupation forces.

The Egyptian government said fighting for control of Port Said and the northern end of the canal continued tonight.

The British and French had reported no organized Egyptian opposition was left at Port Said.

Egyptian officials had acquiesced in the cease-fire asked by the U.N. but demanded withdrawal of foreign troops and other concessions.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmud Fawzi cabled U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold from Cairo late Wednesday saying:

Statement

"The French and British armed forces are continuing their hostile military action and are firing at both military and civilians."

Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, Allied commander, said after a visit to Port Said Wednesday: "There has been no fighting since the cease-fire became operative, but there was a case of looting by Egyptians this morning."

Premier Guy Mollet told the French National Assembly that Egyptian military power had collapsed in a few hours under British-French attack. He said Allied losses were small, that not a single ship had been hit and that only one plane was lost.

News correspondents returning to Allied headquarters on Cyprus from flights to the Suez Canal said more Allied troops were being disembarked there.

But there was no indication that the British-French forces had advanced from points they held at the cease-fire hour.

Cairo radio advised Egyptians to resume fighting "if the enemy advances one inch."

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons there had been "some shooting" in Port Said, but he did not emphasize it.

Big Edge

Eisenhower had some 300,000 more votes than he won by four years ago. Except for the early returns when a heavy Philadelphia Democratic majority enabled Stevenson to hold a slight statewide lead, it was like all the way.

But the picture was sharply different in the senatorial race. Clark, 55, former corporation lawyer who in 1951 became the first Democratic mayor of Philadelphia in 68 years, grabbed the lead at the start and never relinquished it, although Duff cut the margin down toward the end.

Democrat Wins

Philadelphia offered no surprises in yesterday's election, running up majorities for Democrats Adlai Stevenson and Joseph S. Clark as expected, and sending five Democratic representatives to Washington.

Republican Hugh D. Scott was reelected, as the experts thought he would, to be the GOP's only representative to Washington.

After tying her feet, the doe was brought to the home of District Game Commissioner John Doebling, where she was placed in a pen for observation.

"When she's fully recovered," said Doebling, "we'll let her go."

FIVE CENTS

Democrats Certain To Keep Edge

The Eisenhower landslide failed to put the Republicans in control of Congress.

All but complete returns from Tuesday's balloting today assured the Democrats of majorities in House and Senate, continuing the political division between the legislative and executive branches created by the 1954 elections.

It was the first time in over a century that a president has failed to carry into office with at least one branch of Congress.

The Democrats were certain of maintaining their present 39-47 Senate majority, with a chance of raising it to 50-46 depending on the Kentucky results.

In the House, at last count, the Democrats had captured 226 seats, the Republicans 200, with nine contests still in doubt. A majority of the 435-membership House is 218.

A single Senate race, in Kentucky, remained in doubt. Republican Thurston B. Morton went into the lead over Sen. Earle C. Clements, Democrat, as returns came in from eastern Kentucky mountain counties.

Victory of Clements, the assistant Democratic Senate floor leader, would knock the last "if" out of any disagreement over whether Democrats or Republicans would organize the Senate and take over chairmanships of all its committees.

While the Democrats had racked up a numerical majority of 49 seats—a majority—they still could miss out on practical control.

Ohio's Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche swept to victory to unseat Republican Sen. George H. Bender, but he had not yet made clear whether he will vote with the Democrats to organize the Senate.

Without Apology

Without apology, the Russian-controlled radio in Budapest said "serious interruptions in food supplies are unavoidable."

At Kilian barracks, the Var Palace, Moscow Square, an auto factory office and other positions, rebel detachments hammered back at Soviet forces harassing them with mortar and machine gun fire.

Lausche said last June his decision on voting might hinge in part on the presidential winner, and on the "balance of strength in the Senate." In a statement today, Lausche described himself as "American first and Democrat second."

Idaho

While President Eisenhower was running up his landslide victory, the GOP moved to a tight contest with Democrat Ken Holm, a farmer. Case trailed through the night but finally pulled ahead today on late returns.

Case touched off a Senate lobbying investigation last February with disclosure he had been offered a $2,500 campaign contribution by an oil company attorney during the fight over the natural gas bill. He refused to take the money.

The tremendous popular endorsement of Eisenhower was not reflected in the contests for the House, where all 435 seats were up for election.

Later Wednesday, indications pointed to pretty much the same division in the new House as existed in the present one.

The Democrats now enjoy a 232-203 numerical edge. With only a small net gain for either party in prospect from the undecided contests, the Democrats seem likely to command pretty much their present working majority when the House reconvenes Jan. 3.

One newly re-elected Democrat, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell from New York City's Harlem district, says he might quit the Democratic party over racial segregation in public schools.

Navy Leaders Warned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (UPI)—American military commanders around the world have been alerted to tighten their defense readiness, the Joint Chiefs of Staff disclosed tonight.

Sets Record
In Voting

PORLTAND — The heaviest vote on record was cast at the polls in Portland on Tuesday. A percentage almost as high was cast at another election but with fewer voters registered.

Out of a possible 300 voters 289 cast their vote. The town went Republican.

Dwight Eisenhower received 192 votes to Adlai Stevenson's 88. Sen. James Duff 165 to Joseph Clark's 109. Benjamin Jones 172 to Herbert Cohen's 100. G. Harold Watkins 164, to Phillip Carr 101. Charles Smith 170 to Francis Smith's 99. Robert Kent 166 to James Knox 102. George Berg's 144 to Francis Walter's 134.

Republican Representatives in the General Assembly carried with Henry Ragot leading with 179. Russell Moyer with 166 and Joseph Ide with 167. Democratic candidates Jeannette Reihman 113 and James Gaffney 101.

Stroudsburg To Halt Parking Meters On Saturday Nights

Ordinance Now Being Prepared

TREND OF feeding nickels to a parking meter in Stroudsburg Saturday nights?

You soon may be able to forget about shelling out the coin of realm between 6 and 9 p.m. Saturdays—but not yet!

Borough Council last night voted to have an ordinance prepared which would eliminate the use of parking meters Saturday nights.

However, Borough Secretary Harold Snyder emphasized that you'll still have to feed the meters between these hours until the proposed ordinance is officially passed by council and signed by the mayor.

In discussing the situation at last night's council session, Snyder pointed out that the borough could "better deploy its forces" if the meter attendants didn't have to work Saturday nights.

Stores

Snyder also noted that Stroudsburg stores are closed Saturday nights.

In other action, council sold the borough's 24-year-old Mack aerial ladder truck to the New Jersey Fire Equipment Corp., Dunellen, N.J., for $735.

Two other bids were received for Chemical Company's veteran ladder truck. D. Katz & Sons offered $700, and the Kunkletown Volunteer Fire Co. submitted a bid of $150.

Meanwhile, council agreed to meet at 7:30 tonight to open bids on $34,000 in fire apparatus bonds.

The money will be used to pay for the borough's new 100-foot aerial ladder truck, which will replace the old piece of apparatus.

Council also adopted a resolution authorizing the county treasurer to accept vouchers for abatement of 1955 real estate taxes in full settlement of those taxes returned to the county. The total amount of returned taxes amounts to $645.75.

Another ordinance adopted by council established lines and grades for Lenox St., between Broad St. and Park Ave.

Transfer

Council also authorized the transfer of $3,933.37 to the Phoenix Firemen's Relief Association, representing the net amount received by the borough from the two per cent tax paid on premiums of foreign fire insurance companies doing business within the borough.

The transfer is required by law.

Council authorized the Fire Department to draw up plans and to determine the cost of installing a siren on borough property off Brown St.

Fire Chief Millard Marsh explained that during the fall and winter months, when homes are closed up, many firemen in the borough's "hill" section can't hear the alarm ring. The new siren would be designed to rectify this condition.

Council also approved the request of George B. Dodd, Sr. to remain in active borough employment after reaching the "normal retirement date" on December 1.

The lawmakers further agreed to enter a service agreement with the Simplex Valve and Meter Co. for annual inspection of flow meter at the sewage treatment works.

James H. Lyham, an engineering consultant, reported to council that his inspection of the sewage treatment works showed that the plant was in "splendid condition" and that there has been improvement in the manner equipment is being handled.

Police Chief James McConnell reported 60 arrests during October. The burgess collected $201 in fines.

Fire Chief Marsh reported three alarms of fire during the month.

Two Speakers Appear At Kiwanis Club

TWO SPEAKERS appeared before the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon meeting in the Penn Stroud Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. Jean L. Albert, executive secretary of the Children's Aid Society, presented a brief review of the many services provided by the 12 Red Feather agencies belonging to the Monroe County Community Chest.

Later Forrest R. Smith, a dealer in coins and stamps, sketched the history of money and showed a collection of coins and currency owned by H. G. Tucker, a member of the club.

Mrs. Albert noted that the current Community Chest campaign for $74,757 is barely at the halfway point and appealed for all-out efforts to push it over the top in the closing week.

After touching on the specific services performed by each of the agencies, Mrs. Albert declared that all 12 have a four-fold purpose; namely, character building, rehabilitation, prevention of illness — either physical, moral, social or emotional—and in helping people to help themselves to lead more useful, happier and productive lives.

Preventive and service functions of the Chest agencies are not spectacular, she observed, but they are less costly in the long run than other methods. In conclusion, she emphasized that each agency is a non-profit organization set up to serve all people of the county regardless of race, creed or color.

Prior to displaying the Tucker coins, Smith recalled the first coins were put into circulation in 1900 B.C. in China. He displayed a coin struck in 306 A.D. during the reign of Constantine the Great. Worth only a dollar because it is not a rare coin, it is valued by numismatists at less than some coins minted in the U.S. as late as this year, the speaker said.

New officers of the club will be elected Nov. 21. A nominating committee headed by Detlef A. Hansen offered the following slate: Elwood Hintze for president; Rev. Roger A. Stimson, vice president; John A. Watt, second vice president; Allan W. Keiper, treasurer; John R. Lesoine, Jack Lantz, Walter McClelland, Chester S. Miller.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Christ Church, Stroudsburg, Rev. Charles A. Park officiating. Burial will be made in Prospect cemetery, East Stroudsburg. Friends may call Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Lanterman Funeral Home.

Jere Stofflet, Robert Schell and Edward L. Williams. Others on the nominating committee were Gilbert L. Smurz, Parke W. Kunkle and C. W. Dupee.

Daniel Miller, area Boy Scout executive, was introduced as a new member.

Two-Part Program Given FTA

FUTURE TEACHERS of America on East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus heard a two-part program last night.

The first part was devoted to a demonstration of parliamentary procedure by a team of Thaddeus Stevens chapter members. The second was a talk by Miss Maisie Ziegler, Lehighton High School librarian, who has just returned from a year abroad as an exchange teacher in the Bonn, Germany schools.

Tom Leshko, Bushkill, headed the parliamentary procedure team. Other members were Paul Peters, Bangor; Jean Plum, Easton; Donna Stafford, Lewistown; Louise Feidler Arner, Northampton; Walter Wunderly, East Stroudsburg; Elva Rowe, Wiconisco; John Zwawsky, Jeddo; Donald Eckert, Dallas and Richard Wagner, home address not known.

In her talk to the group, Miss Ziegler stressed the importance of the international exchange teaching program, detailing the requirements for assistantships and provisions for salaries.

Bangor Area Joint School's New Cafeteria Scheduled To Open After Christmas Holidays

BANGOR — Merle Mabus, chairman of the property committee informed members of the Bangor Area Joint School Board that the new school cafeteria would be ready for operation after the Christmas holidays.

In connection with the same report, Donald B. Keat, school superintendent, notified the board that he had received 18 applications for cafeteria cooks in the past two weeks — four of whom will be named to the position.

The board also set the price of 30 cents per day as the official lunch price. The meeting was conducted by David Stoddard, president, and on request of Quintus LeBar, chairman of the athletic committee, the board authorized a contribution of $700 to the school athletic program.

Dr. James Brusie, chairman of school education committee, reported that Mrs. Ruth LeBar, a seventh grade social studies teacher is unable to continue her duties and the evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and to take part in evaluation of a school at Johnsburg, Pa.

Kenneth Fritz, faculty member, was given permission to serve on the evaluation committee of the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and to take part in evaluation of a school at Johnsburg, Pa.

GOP Loses Ground In Congress Despite Eisenhower Landslide

Causes and effects of the election results are being assessed by the political experts today as final returns trickle in and the pattern of Tuesday's return becomes clearer by the hour.

Evident almost from receipt of first returns from the Far West was the fact that despite the landslide for President Eisenhower, which put a stamp of approval on his administration, his efforts to fashion a new Republican party have made slower progress than he had hoped.

Mr. Eisenhower's acknowledged popularity and integrity were big factors in swinging the election to the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. There were other major reasons, to be sure, but national attention was focused on the ability of Senate and House candidates endorsed by the President to win control of Congress for the Republicans.

Failing in this, Mr. Eisenhower faces the prospect of beginning his second term in January with a Congress that is more politically hostile, in theory at least, than the last, or 84th Congress.

What effect this will have on the Eisenhower legislative program during the next biennium will be a matter of much speculation. This much is certain: the Chief Executive has, in the past four years, been able to win a greater degree of support from some Democratic congressmen than he has from the extremists in his own party.

For example, Mr. Eisenhower's middle-of-the-road policies have been more acceptable to a number of Southern Democrats than to Midwestern Republicans. Time will tell whether this trend will diminish or grow in the next Congress. In any event, it appears likely that legislation of a radical type will stand little chance of passing both the Congress and White House.

The fact that Democrats have been successful in building a much stronger organization of party workers than the Republicans, despite Mr. Eisenhower's personal

Water Becoming Top Domestic Problem: It Really Is A Valuable Commodity

The materialistic age in which we live may yet see the search for uranium and other precious metals switch to one for another vital product that is on the verge of becoming a rarity—water.

Speaking before the Chamber of Commerce National Affairs Council in Pittsburgh, Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton said recently:

"Water is rapidly becoming the number one domestic problem in the United States. One thousand cities and towns had to ration water to greater or less extent this year, and the condition will become worse . . . We have minded our water resources, using up supplies which geologists tell us required hundreds of years to accumulate."

To most Americans, the water supply is something about which little thought is even given—it's just there. Like the flow of electricity that lights the bulbs and runs the appliances in our homes, it is considered as being endless.

U.N. Must Save Itself In Hungary Since Soviet Russia Will Not Leave Country

Hungary was the second of the satellite states to seek its freedom from the Kremlin. The first was Yugoslavia. But Tito's problem was comparatively simple. There were no Russian troops in Yugoslavia and Tito had an effective army which had been built strong during the war. Tito was swiftly aided by the Allies, such aid costing the United States a billion dollars which Tito gladly accepted provided no strings were attached to the gift. And no strings have been attached even after Tito rejoined the confraternity in the Kremlin.

Hungary was not as fortunate as Yugoslavia. Hungary had to fight for its freedom. The Hungarian people were forced to engage in street-fighting against the Russian hordes. Young students had to lay down their lives for the liberty of their parents. They defeated the Russians.

They defeated the Hungarians who were traitors to their own country. The Hungarians and Russians were actually negotiating for the withdrawal of Soviet troops and for peace terms, when like a snarling beast that knows neither honor nor courage, the Russians surrounded Budapest with a thousand tanks, arrested the very men with whom they were negotiating, shot down the people and restored a country to slavery.

Poor Cardinal Mindszenty! He had such high hopes. But now he is a refugee as he has been a prisoner, gazing hopelessly upon the shambles of his beautiful and once gay country, held in thrall by a merciless enemy who was made victorious by the aid given it by misguided Western peoples who erred politically as well as morally.

At his worst, Stalin never betrayed such unscrupulous sadism as those who now rule Russia. It is being reported that Marshal Zhukov is commanding the Kremlin troops in Hungary. If that is true, that lets Zhukov out of the human race.

It was—it is genocide. And what about the United Nations which is against genocide, against foreign troops seizing a country, against one nation marching upon another, against imperialism and colonialism? What about the United Nations? It will have to save itself in Hungary rather than in the Middle East. Great Britain and France will leave popularity, was pointed up anew at the grass-roots level. It all presages trouble for the GOP in the years to come unless the Eisenhower magic begins to take hold and a revitalized Republican Party is born in the early future.

While the success of Democratic candidates can be credited to the precinct and state organizations, rather than to the head of the ticket, the opposite was true of the Republicans, many of whom rode to victory on the Eisenhower bandwagon.

Another point that should be noted is the increasingly dominant role being played by the independent voter, the man or woman who is registered in one party or the other but seldom casts a straight party ballot. Political observers feel that most young voters fall into this category.

Locally, the 15th Congressional District ran true to form by rolling up a handsome majority for the veteran Rep. Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat. Highly respected by members of both parties and one of the top men in seniority in the House, the congressman's stature has been further enhanced by the success of his party in taking a firmer grip on control of the lower chamber.

Democrats blamed a combination of factors for Mr. Yetter's defeat, not the least of which was the state's failure to take quicker action on the rebuilding of bridges destroyed in the 1955 flood.

Congratulations go out to all the winners along with the hope that their tenure in office will see Pennsylvania and the United States reaching new heights of "peace, progress and prosperity," the slogan that helped carry Mr. Eisenhower back into power.

Water Becoming Top Domestic Problem: It Really Is A Valuable Commodity

Secretary Seaton suggests that we will have to better conserve the rainfall, produce drinkable water from sea water in commercial quantities at competitive prices and build large water-carrying pipelines across the nation to combat this impending water shortage.

It is a serious problem when you consider that not only does every person use an average of 145 gallons of water daily but additional thousands of gallons are used every day commercially in the production of such products as steel and plastics.

The Secretary of the Interior spoke of precautions on a national scale, but each individual in this country would do well to think of it on a personal level too.

Let's start treating water as the valuable commodity it is. And when experts in the field or governmental officials talk about water conservation projects let's listen to every word they say and then speak out in their support.

TV Formula For Parents To Govern Young Viewers

Last night I listened to a fourth-grade teacher explaining how TV has broadened the interest range of her young friends. Science shows particularly send the kids running to her for fast answers to, What is the geological age of the left side of Pike's Peak, and What type vegetation, if any, on Mars?

And she's learned to scan the program notices ahead of the kids. Fourth-graders still have that glimmering shimmering belief that the old folks teachers especially taught to know answers. At enormous expense and after countless years of experiment, a formula has been developed which guarantees—not that the kids will brightly emerge from their homework—but that they definitely will be limited on TV-time. In passing it along to you, I do not suggest that the method is needed in your domicile; only that you might know someone who could use it. (It was some trick getting permission to print the formula, and I hereby thank the eminent research team who so graciously shared their findings with us.)

As the kinder sit transfixed before the magic screen, parents rise quiet-like and advance six places. With an easy motion involving arm muscles he brings the wrist up about level with the control buttons on the set. Grasping this mechanism firmly, fingers relaxed yet operative, parent gives a half-turn to starboard or whichever way is OFF, Cowboys, clowns, comedians and whatever are positively assured of immediate disappearance. The show is over, finished, end quote.

Parent may then follow one of two courses, depending on his pediatric persuasions. He may argue, explain, cajole. Or he may bring the portside thumb into action, indicating routes to bedroom or other areas hospitable to homework. The weak point in this procedure is just here. Parent, having taken away a desired object, may be inclined to substitute another—he might get worked into doing the homework himself. On guard! Point that thumb in the air—thataway! This is no time for indecision or weakness. You want to keep reading the paper, not writing book reports!

If there are homes—in which children are allowed to gaze in one direction for such periods of time, surveyors are looking in the wrong direction for low intelligence ratings. Better they look at the 106-year-old Bostonian boast that he has never had any interest in women. Just think of the fortune he must have saved in not ever buying St. Valentine's Day cards.

Inaugural Scramble—The armed services already are busily seeking stellar roles in the inaugural ceremonies on January 22.

The Air Force not only wants to have a large contingent in the parade on the ground, but also to put on a spectacular show in the air. It's proposing a flyover of giant eight-jet B-52 bombers. A flyover was finally banned in 1952, after much bickering and filling.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Democrats To Oust Powell From Major Committees

Washington, Nov. 7—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell is marked for axing as a Democratic member of the House.

The Harlem boister will be ousted both from the party and his committee.

This crack-down will cost Powell senior status on two major committees. He is third-ranking member of the House Education & Labor Committee, which has jurisdiction over civil rights legislation; and fifth in rank on the 32-member Interior & Insular Affairs Committee.

As a seven-term congressman, Powell had excellent prospects of attaining even higher seniority on these two powerful committees. Instead, his bolt to the Republicans is due to deprive him of any place on these committees as a Democrat.

The decision to retaliate against him was made by leaders of the New York Democratic delegation in the House several weeks before the election.

They determined on that when Powell capped his switch to President Eisenhower by coining out for State Attorney General Jacob Javits, Republican candidate for the Senate. That was the final straw for these legislators, already furious at Powell, who has never been personally liked by them.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.) gave his blessing to the expulsion plan when consulted about it.

At the behest of the delegation, Representative Emanuel Cellier (D., N. Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, is assembling data on precedents and procedure relating to the contemplated ouster. This study will be considered at a meeting of the entire group before the new Congress convenes in January.

The plan under discussion is for the delegation to hold a caucus and to formally recommend that Powell be stripped of his committee assignments as a Democrat. This would also have the effect of kicking him out of the party.

This recommendation would then be considered by a caucus of all Democratic members of the House. Strongly-supported concurrence is anticipated.

The next move would be up to Powell.

He could request the Republicans to include him in their committee lists. That's what Senator Morse did when he bolted to the GOP from the Democrats. He requested committee assignments from the latter which were given him.

But Morse was deprived of his seniority as a second-term senator, and went to the bottom of the committee given him. The same would happen to Powell.

He could

Viewing the Screens

FOR THE THIRD consecutive year the CBS Television Network plans to show Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" on the "Shower of Stars" Dec. 13. Freddie March will be starred as Scrooge, with Basil Rathbone, Ray Middleton, Bob Sweeney and Christopher Cook heading the all-star cast.

Good music is offered for 45 minutes tonight, with Guy Lombardo bringing "the sweetest music this side of heaven" from 7 to 7:30 on Ch. 4; followed by the songs of Dinah Shore until 7:45 on Chs. 3 and 4. Once again tonight Dinah will sing a song chosen by teen-agers from some town in the U.S.

Wire Service at 9 p.m. on Chs. 6 and 7 presents "Conspiracy," starring Mercedes McCambridge as reporter Katherine Wells. She is assigned to write a human-interest story about a candidate for the office of Secretary of State. When she hears rumors that the candidate may have been involved in an illegal deal, she sets out to uncover the truth.

Four of the original, laugh-minute Keystone Cops of the silent movies will appear as themselves in "The Big Slab," starring Red Skelton and Shirley Jones, on "Playhouse 90" at 9:30 on Chs. 2 and 10. This is an original television drama which recounts the rise to stardom of a silent film comedian and the hazards which bring his career to the brink of disaster. Also in the cast will be Jack Mulhall, one of the biggest stars of silent films.

Video Theater at 10 p.m. on Chs. 3 and 4 will present "Jezabel," which won an Academy Award for Bette Davis. In the starring role tonight, "live" from Hollywood, will be Martha Hyer. "Jezabel" is the story of a deep and undying love of a southern belle for a man she spurned and then tries to win back even though he has married another.

Sports

Amateur boxing at 9 p.m., on Ch. 13. Wrestling from Washington, D.C., at 9 p.m., on Ch. 5.

Current Movies

Sherman Theater—"Mountain," Grand Theater—"Crime in the Streets."

Jaycees Plan Contest

FINAL PLANS for the annual "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored by Jaycees have now been made.

The contest is open to all 10th, 11th and 12th grade students in local high schools. Deadline for entries will be Nov. 21.

Stanley Grace, president of the Pocono Mountains Junior Chamber of Commerce said last night that the contest is designed to give high school students an opportunity to think, write and speak concerning the democratic principles which have made America great.

Entries
Contest entries are judged on the basis of content, delivery and originality of five-minute radio scripts, recorded by the authors, on the subject "I Speak For Dem-cacy."

Jr. Women Set Projects For Others

"We use color all day long in our life, even in our conversation," was the opening remarks of Mrs. Joyce E. Segnios, guest speaker at the Junior Woman's Club meeting on Tuesday night. It was the American people, expressed in color, that led to the industrial color revolution, she said, pointing out that color has been introduced in fields that used to be either black or white—kitchens, cars, towels, stationery, typewriters and telephones come in a rainbow range of color.

The physicist's definition of color as reflected light broken down into component colors; the chemist's definition of color from earth pigments; and the psychologist's study of how color affects the person were part of her talk.

The color age, she pointed out, has produced the problem of how to identify the range of colors, and a whole new system of words has been made.

Three nerves enable man to see color, she said, one for red and white, one for blue and green and one for black and white. The combination of colors can produce after-images when the eyes are tired, and change background colors.

Colors affect humans emotionally, she said, pointing out that the warm colors, red, yellow and orange, seem to come toward the viewer and are called advancing colors; the cool blue, green and violet are soothings colors are called receding colors.

Industry has followed the lead of the homemaker and uses color for safety and pleasant surroundings, she said. Mrs. Segnios is with the public relations department of Bell Telephone Co.

Robert Wolbert, accompanied on the piano by his wife, Jean Ann Wolbert, sang "My Lady Walks In Loveliness," "Without A Song" and "I Love Life."

December Projects

Mrs. William Morgan, welfare chairman, announced that during December, the club was concentrating on the needs of others. A silver offering will be collected for a Christmas party at the county home at the December meeting. The juniors will present the December program for the Senior Woman's Club, Mrs. Robert Bixler Jr. announced.

The Christmas Dance will be held December 27 at the Penn-Strood Hotel. Mrs. N. R. Hummel announced, with the proceeds going to the fund to provide a personal Christmas present of $2.50 for each ward of the Children's Aid Society.

Sponsor Blood Bank

The Junior Woman's Club will sponsor the Blood Bank on November 30 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church from 10:30 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Warren Mikels is chairman of recruitment with Mrs. Elwood German as co-chairman.

Each member of the club is responsible for at least one pledge which should be turned in at the next board meeting.

Mrs. Richard MacDonough, president, and Mrs. Robert Bixler, first vice president, poured at the tea table. Mrs. John Lato and Mrs. Donald Snyder were co-chairmen of the hostess committee, which included Mrs. Fred Armitage, Mrs. Eugene Knerim, Mrs. Richard Lindsey, Mrs. Irving Effross and Mrs. Harry Andrews.

Bangor Brownies Name Officers

Bangor—Election of officers for the coming month took place Thursday afternoon during the assembly of Brownie Troop 124 at the Presbyterian Church. Debra Hughes was named president; Ann Wynne, vice-president; Dawn Moysey, secretary; Marvine Lohman, treasurer, and Marjorie Roberts, Linda Jane Lange, Suzanne Morey and Joan Wagner, color guards.

A Thanksgiving Tea for members and their mothers was discussed. Announcement also was made of the $10 prize won in the local Halloween parade. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were accepted. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Elinor Fehr and Mrs. Jane Lange, leaders, closed with a song session.

Soroptimist Meeting, Benefit Sale

Soroptimists International of Monroe County have several busy days ahead of them with their rummage sale and business meeting. The rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday at 38 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

The sale is held semi-annually for the benefit of the club's Nurse's Training Scholarship Fund. A three-year scholarship is awarded each year by the club, open to any Senior girl from any of the county high schools who can meet the requirements.

The club has three girls now in training; one at Woman's Medical Hospital and two at Lankenau.

Contributions from members and friends will be welcomed, and there will be someone at the storeroom at 38 Washington Street to receive the donations.

The club's business meeting will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. William Clark, Main Street, Stroudsburg. Reports will be given of the regional convention, and final preparations will be made for the rummage sale.

Bangor WSCS Sets Date Of Thank Offering

Bangor—Mrs. John Hewitt, president of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the First Methodist Church had charge of the meeting of that organization in the social rooms of the church on Tuesday when plans were made to hold the annual Thanksgiving service of the group on Sunday, November 25 at 11 a.m.

It was also announced that the next meeting would be held on Friday, December 14 in the form of a candlelight and Christmas program.

Thirty-four members were present at the session and gifts for the Deaconess Home in Philadelphia were received. Mrs. Laura Powers was accepted as a new member of the organization and Miss Joan Parsons was received as a member of the Ruth Circle.

Routine reports were received from Miss Joyce Rutt, secretary who also conducted the devotions at the meeting and from Mrs. Ellis Roberts, treasurer.

The topic at the meeting was taken from the book, "United Nations at Work" and featured the discussion of the area, Youth Is the Responsibility Which is the Christian Concern. Mrs. Brymer Roberts presented this portion of the program.

A social hour concluded the meeting with the following acting as hostesses: Mrs. Frank Saunders, Mrs. Sidney Spy, Mrs. David Dentith, Mrs. Charles Stroud and Miss Lottie Jewell.

Mrs. Bonser Again Heads Workers Council

Pocono Lake—The Workers Council of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church School met a week early, on October 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap with the president, Mrs. Clarence Bonser, presiding. She read a poem "Wisdom" and Mrs. Adam Smith led in prayers.

The Christmas program was set for Sunday night, December 23, under the direction of Mrs. John Werkheiser, Mrs. Dora Field and Mrs. Willis Dunlap.

Mrs. Werkheiser reported on the Monroe County Sunday School convention, stressing the talk given by Mrs. Jordan and the report of the Leper Fund.

Officers for both the workers council and the Sunday school were elected.

Council: Mrs. Clarence Bonser, president; Mrs. Dora Field, vice president; Mrs. Carl Major, secretary; Mrs. Frederick Harold Jr., assistant; and Mrs. John Werkheiser, treasurer.

Sunday school officers will be announced next month.

Mrs. Dunlap served refreshments to Mrs. Adam Smith, Mrs. Willis Dunlap, Mrs. Frederick Harold Jr., Mrs. Carl Major and Mrs. Clarence Bonser.

Instructors were Mrs. Mary Henning and Miss Helen Brown who gave the Loyalty Oath.

Members of Y-Gradale who took the course included: Gertrude Hippel, Betty Melvin, Shirley Detrick, Patricia Dean, Shirley Congdon, Betty Fegley, Mildred Shaw, Mary Scheller, Jane LaBarre, Margaret Carmella, Beatrice Duncan, Florence Zateeny, Dorothy Andress, Lillian Bergman, Esther McLaughlin, Alma Schaller, Kathryn Marsh, Audrey Mannis, Freida Coco, Nancy Quaresimo, and Lavonne Weaver who are members of Y-Gradale.

Other representatives were May Evans Brundage and Madeline B. Cross from the Christ Episcopal Church and Jean Corkhill from the faculty of the Ramsey School and Florence Bush, Adelaide Volkert, Ethel Kispaugh and Iona Schaller from the Grace Lutheran Church of East Stroudsburg.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Palmerston High School and is presently employed in a Palmerston Blouse Factory.

Jay Sleep presented the program and showed a film entitled "Panorama." Selections on electric pianos were presented by Barbara Sleep and Margaret Hughes.

Members voted to have pupils sell pudding as a fund raising project.

Attendance banner went to the first grade, Mrs. Gloria Fisher, teacher. Door prize was won by Mrs. Milton Frey.

Next month's meeting will feature a gift exchange and the showing of a colored film "Putting Christ Back Into Christmas."

Hallowe'en Party Held In Bonser's Garage

Saylorburg—Neighborhood children and classmates of Nina Bonser enjoyed a Hallowe'en party Wednesday night in the garage at the Bonser home. The garage was decorated in black and orange crepe paper, with pumpkins and corn shocks in the corners. Various games and contests were enjoyed by the children, and winners were awarded prizes.

Those present were Beatrice Antts, Joann Arnts, Lois Werkheiser, Shirley Ann Gower, Mary Catherine Lynch, Cathy Hildebrandt, Doneta Serfass, Donna Feller, Carol Hildebrandt, Connie Kresge, LeRoy Williams, Paul George, Robert Crock, Glenn Werkheiser, Bruce Feller and Bradley Hildibrant, Mrs. Stewart Werkheiser and Mrs. William Hildebrandt assisted the children and served refreshments.

But sprawled there asleep—and finally quiet—it seems as if we could hardly bear the burden of love for them. Well, there are times when I feel that way about these towns themselves.

You can be awfully exasperating at times. But every once in a while—Well, take last night, for instance, just around the supper hour. You were all tired from election excitement and late television nights, and were pretty well staying put.

The streets were practically deserted and looked almost lonely in the sudden Autumn dusk before the street-lights seem to grow bright enough to see by. You hadn't done anything, particularly, to make me proud of you at just that time.

But suddenly I found myself thinking how much I like this place: the empty benches lining Main Street, the lighted windows in the kitchens, the long telephone calls linking home to home, the threads of friendship or kinship linking person to person in a skin that no one can ever quite get untangled completely.

Oh, I like you in person, too:

in the flush of a stimulating meeting, in the pride of a beautiful wedding, in the gaiety of a party. But, never so wholeheartedly as when you're quiet enough to give me a chance to think about it.

ESSTC Rolls Over Trenton In Final Soccer Tussle, 5-2

Staeger Leads Way To Sixth Victory

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College closed its doors on a successful soccer season yesterday by crushing Trenton Teachers, 5-2, before a home town crowd.

The one-sided decision gave the Warriors a record of six victories and one setback. The lone loss was a 1-0 setback at the hands of Lock Haven last Saturday. The victories were over Elizabethtown, Brockport, Panzer, Ithaca, West Chester and Trenton.

ESSTC broke yesterday's contest wide open in the third period after enjoying a 2-1 advantage at the end of the first half.

Howard "Howie" Staeger ran his total goals to 12 for the season in the first half. The former goalie took a pass from Bob Bright to score from his center forward spot after 18 minutes of the first stanza. He bounded right back to tally after 10 minutes of the second round. The second goal came on a pass from Al Miller.

Rival Score
Trenton picked up its initial goal after 15 minutes of the first period, when Tom Shipske pushed the ball past goalie Tom D'Armi.

ESSTC tallied twice in the second round as Bright found the range at the three-minute mark, while Ernie Howe added to the second goal of the stanza at the 11-minute mark.

The third quarter also proved costly to the Warriors as D'Armi was kicked in the head during a pickup in front of the goal. D'Armi was kept at the Monroe County General Hospital for observation last night, but wet x-ray plates failed to disclose any serious injury.

Dan Snyder, a freshman filled in for D'Armi for the remainder of the game and allowed only one goal. The final Trenton score, in the last quarter, came at the 17-minute mark.

ESSTC finished its scoring when Craig Letherman tallied after six and one-half minutes of the final stanza had been played.

ESSTC scored a total of 20 goals this season, as compared to six for the opposition.

Lineups follow:

ESSTC	Pos.	Trenton
D'Armi	GK	Bright
D'Pinto	MF	Mosser
Lamont	DF	Bates
Roscher	DF	Shaw
Howe	MF	Heff
Snow	MF	Vance

Bright	OL
Trenton	OL	Tome
		1 0 0 1-2
		1 1 2 1-5

ESSTC's scoring: Staeger, Hall, Don, Ed, Mosser, Roscher, Himmelberger, Ervin, Charles, Rodenbach, Prinska, Letherman, Sam, McCarty, Stenger, Maciello, Schmid, S. Snow, Kauder, Seiter, Keen, Titus, Pfeiffer, Knauff, Conover, Guthrie, O'Toole, Rank, Catty.

Knights Plan For Dinner

ROSETO — A Christmas dinner was planned for Dec. 3 at Tuesday night's meeting of the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary.

Miss Catherine Eubbia was named chairman of the arrangements committee, assisted by Mrs. Gloria Martino and Mrs. Anna Giovannini.

It was announced that the K of C Council is planning a dinner dance in the near future. Father Illig, C. M., spoke at the close of the meeting.

Nazareth Makes Rate Request

HARRISBURG, Nov. 7 (P)—The Public Utility Commission was asked today to authorize a $6,297 annual rate boost for 1,608 customers of the Nazareth Sewage Co., Northampton County, effective Jan. 1.

The company said charges for all classes of sewage collection and disposal would be increased 15 per cent under the plan.

Don Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the Yankees in the World Series, allowed three home runs in Washington in the season's opener there last spring. He won the game.

Big Play For Pair

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 7 (P)—Adios Harry and Diamond Hal are expected to receive a big play at the mutual windows tomorrow night in the $75,000 eastern championship race—but several others in the star studded field have a good chance to grab the rich prize. Eight pacers are scheduled to start in the mile and one sixteenth race, with the winner to net $37,500 in the richest pace in the history of night sulky racing.

DETROIT, Nov. 7 (P)—Paul

Sports Trail --

By Whitney Martin

NEW YORK. Nov. 7 (P)—If UCLA scouts made the discovery that the foot position of Stanford's passing ace, John Brodie, was a tipoff as to the type of play to be run the chances are it was quite accidental, like a fellow sipping hard cider and much to his surprise finding it made him woozy.

The legal Peeping Toms in the press box have enough to keep them busy without trying to detect whether a halfback of the team they are scouting blinks at times when he is to get the ball or his neck gets red when he is called upon to pass.

Rod Sanders, UCLA coach, has confirmed his team was aware if Brodie's left foot was back it meant a dropback for a pass or a fullback draw play up the middle; if his feet were even, it meant a fullback draw play up the middle; if his feet were even, it meant a running play outside or an angle-in pass to the left. If the right foot was back, it meant a quick pickup or rollout pass.

Smothered

Brodie was pretty well smothered as his team lost a one-point decision, but there is some doubt that his semaphore feet signaling his plans to the opposition had too much to do with it.

We tried to find out from Jack Lavelle, one of the best scouts in the business, just how much of a scout's work consisted of observing the little mannerisms of individual players to see if there was a clue to what was going to happen.

Lavelle now scouts for the New York football giants, but for years he scouted Army for Notre Dame, hoisting his vast bulk to a press box seat every Saturday afternoon when the Cadets were playing and proceeding to make chick tracks all over a pad of paper. "When the game was over he'd run these chicken tracks through that Univac mind of his and come up with an accurate report of Army's offense and defense."

"You're too busy to look for things like that," Lavelle said, "so when you do come up with something along that line it's purely accidental."

"You might notice a man playing in a particular spot on a certain play. When he is in that same spot five or six times and the same play is run you figure you have discovered something."

"But what can you see about an individual's appearance from away up in the press box, anyway? This stuff about a halfback hitching up his belt, or blushing or something when he is to carry the ball is all bunk."

Observing

"You have enough to do observing and jotting down formations. Maybe some colleges use a man to try to spot individual peculiarities. They sometimes have six or seven men working a game."

"You know certain mannerisms, but what good does it do you? Everyone knew Sammy Baugh moistened his fingers when he was going to pass, but so what? You knew he was going to pass anyway."

If individual mannerisms that might give away plays is to be detected we would imagine opposing players would be the ones to do it, but even they are too busy trying to figure where a play will go to take the role of gumshoe men.

We don't know how UCLA discovered Brodie's peculiar footwork. If one of its scouts did uncover it, it was a neat bit of sleuthing.

Chuck Taylor, Stanford coach, said Brodie was spoken to between halves about his foot placement, and he changed it for the second half. That should really have crossed up UCLA.

Two Former Coaches Win

SEATTLE. Nov. 7 (P)—Two football coaches tossed out by the University of Washington were handed four-year contracts yesterday by the voters in jobs with less pay—and fewer alumni.

John Cherberg, fired last winter from his $12,500 job as head coach, was elected lieutenant governor. The post pays $6,000, plus a limited expense account.

Howie Odell, who got $15,000 as Cherberg's predecessor at the university, becomes a King County (Seattle) commissioner at $8,600 per year.

Both are Democrats.

Former Football Coach Expires

SCRANTON. Nov. 7 (P)—George Azar Jr., 47, widely known insurance executive and former football coach at Keystone Junior College, died unexpectedly today of a heart attack at his home in nearby Factoryville.

He was a native of Altoona and a graduate of Gettysburg College and Pennsylvania State University.

Former Director Wins

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 7 (P)—Ralph H. Young, former Michigan State University athletic director, easily won his race for a seat in the State House of Representatives. A Republican, he will represent Ingham County's second district. It was his first try for public office.

Hellertown Tops Pen Argyl JV, 25-20 UCLA Back Named Tops For Week

Hellertown's fullback, Don Lang, scored one on a 73-yard return of the opening kickoff, but the extra point was blocked, soon after Hellertown recovered a Pen Argyl fumble and scored again to make the score 12-0.

In the second quarter Tom Guerro received the Hellertown kickoff and ran 93 yards to pay dirt.

Hellertown took to the air after receiving the kickoff, but Bob Savercool intercepted on the 50. Pen Argyl, unable to move, went back in punt formation, but quarterback Guerro took the ball and skirted around end to score, travelling 58 yards. The dive for the extra point by Savercool failed.

Hellertown received the kickoff on its three-yard line, and began passing.

George Zone intercepts, but was tackled on the one, when the half ended.

Pen Argyl received the kickoff, and Guerro hit Zone on the 47

and Zone raced for the Green Wave's third TD. Donald Weider added the extra point.

Hellertown scored two TDs

soon after on off tackle plays and the game ended in midfield with Hellertown on top.

This was Pen Argyl's fourth defeat in six starts.

Next week Pen Argyl will play the Bangor yearlings at Pen Argyl at 2 p.m. Pen Argyl had to play Hellertown minus five boys who were expelled from the team for disciplinary reasons.

Associated Press Scribe Picks Tennessee

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK. Nov. 7 (P)—It now becomes apparent why Will Grimsley jammed to Melbourne so early. The round-faced Tennessean isn't up to picking the Tennessee-see-Gorgia Tech game.

But starting from scratch, with no record to uphold (or improve), we go with Tennessee. Say 13-9.

We like the single-wing. What's your excuse?

And having put one foot forward, here's the plunge:

MINNESOTA 18, Iowa 12 — The Gophers seldom see anything but snow on New Year's Day. This time it's different. They'll be in Pasadena and Bobby Cox can show 'em the sights on the Coast.

OHIO STATE 32, Indiana 6—For what it's worth: The Hoosiers are Notre Dame's only victims this season.

OKLAHOMA 56, Iowa State 0 — Eddie Stanky sometimes is called "genial" by close friends.

MICHIGAN STATE 28, Purdue 7 — He's also called other names, too, of course.

STANFORD 19, Oregon State 14 — Brodie passes for three.

Texas A & M 21, Southern Methodist 6—The Aggies are en route to their first conference crown since 1941.

Navy 13, Duke 7—The Blue Devils should be too pooped after that great try against Georgia Tech.

MARYLAND 12, Clemson 7—You want an upset? Here 'tis.

SYRACUSE 24, Holy Cross 6—Not all the Crusaders got back alive.

Colorado 25, Missouri 14—More misery for Missouri and orange blossoms for the Buffs.

Pitt 26, Notre Dame 18 — But those Irish just gotta win again sometime.

Illinois 14, Michigan 14—Strictly Illini sentiment, that's all.

Southern Cal 32, California 12 — This one should be Zampasye.

And a once-over lightly:

First U.S. Olympic Crew At Melbourne

MELBOURNE, Wednesday, Nov. 8 (P)—The first plane load of Yanks—61 strong—flew into Melbourne today for an Olympic Games staggered by the recent withdrawals of four nations and haunted by rumors and fears of others to follow.

The situation became so serious that the chairman of the Olympic Organizing Committee, Wilfred Kent-Hughes, issued a formal statement appealing to all nations that the "true spirit of the Olympics triumphs over international distrust and jealousies."

Hopes

Later Kent-Hughes said he may ask Holland, one of the nations which dropped out, to reconsider its decision. He said word of the cease fire order in the Suez Canal area has buoyed his hopes for an easing of international tensions.

Games executives said they had received no official word of the withdrawals Tuesday of Communist China, Iraq, Holland and Spain, but two Dutch team officials and four athletes here were given notice that they must leave the Olympic Village at Heidelberg and return home as soon as possible. Egypt withdrew in August before the present tensions flared openly.

"Never before in the history of the Olympics have the games been staged under such difficult conditions," Kent-Hughes said.

By The Associated Press

DON SHINNICK, 20, senior quarterback at UCLA, was chosen Associated Press Back of the Week Thursday for his great play both offensively and defensively against Stanford last Saturday.

Shinnick, a 6 foot, 200 pounder from San Pedro, Calif., was in virtually every play as UCLA upset Stanford 14-13. He was the leader in the rush-and-rumble of Stanford's John Brodie, and his blocking made possible many gains for his ball carriers.

Shinnick's one conversion was the victory margin. He blocked the second Stanford conversion attempt which, if successful, would have meant a tie.

Special Honor

Also coming in for special honors was the sparkling play of another quarterback, Joe Kubist of University of Buffalo, who tossed five touchdown passes in his team's 31-13 upset of Bucknell.

The wet ball and soggy turf failed to bother the Sloan, N.Y., back, who connected on 14 of 19 passes for 50 yards.

This tied an eastern record for TD passes in one game. Columbia's Paul Governali had five in 1942 against Ft. Monmouth, and Carroll Lowenstein of Harvard equalled the feat in 1943 against Davidson.

John Herrnstein of Michigan gained voting support for his second half play that brought the Wolverines a 17-14 victory over Iowa.

Buddy Osborne, Texas A & M quarterback, also drew high praise for his 90 yards rushing and pass of 37 yards for one touchdown as the Aggies defeated Arkansas 27-0.

Others receiving honorable mention included Jimmy Harris of Oklahoma, Ned Oldham of Navy, Charlie Arnold of Southern Methodist and Al Carter of Tennessee.

Washington State Gridder Top Forward Pass Receiver

By The Associated Press

THIS HASN'T BEEN a great year for forward passing in college football and no one knows it better than the boys who try to catch them. Not one player on any major team has been able to establish himself as a standout receiver.

Current leader in that department — for the second straight week — is Bill Steiger of Washington State with 26 receptions for 376 yards. He is the fourth player this season to head the pass reception list in the NCAA Service Bureau statistics.

Second Place

Tied for second place with 24 receptions each are Art Powell of San Jose State and Paul Camara of Stanford, Charles James of Missouri and Alfred Jamison of College gate have made 23 catches apiece.

Bushnell also was at a standstill among the pass-interception leaders. Jack Hill of Utah State, whose seven interceptions and 90 points scored both are tops for major colleges, was shut out in both respects by Wyoming. Penn State's Milt Plum, who had 100 interceptions and 90 points, could not snatch a Syracuse pass.

Kirk Wilson of UCLA retained his lead in punting for the third week with an average distance of 46.5 yards in 15 kicks.

Ron Lind of Drake, with 250 yards, and Sam Woolwine of VMI, with 478 yards, held their places as leaders in returning punts and kickoffs, respectively.

Holland, Spain Out

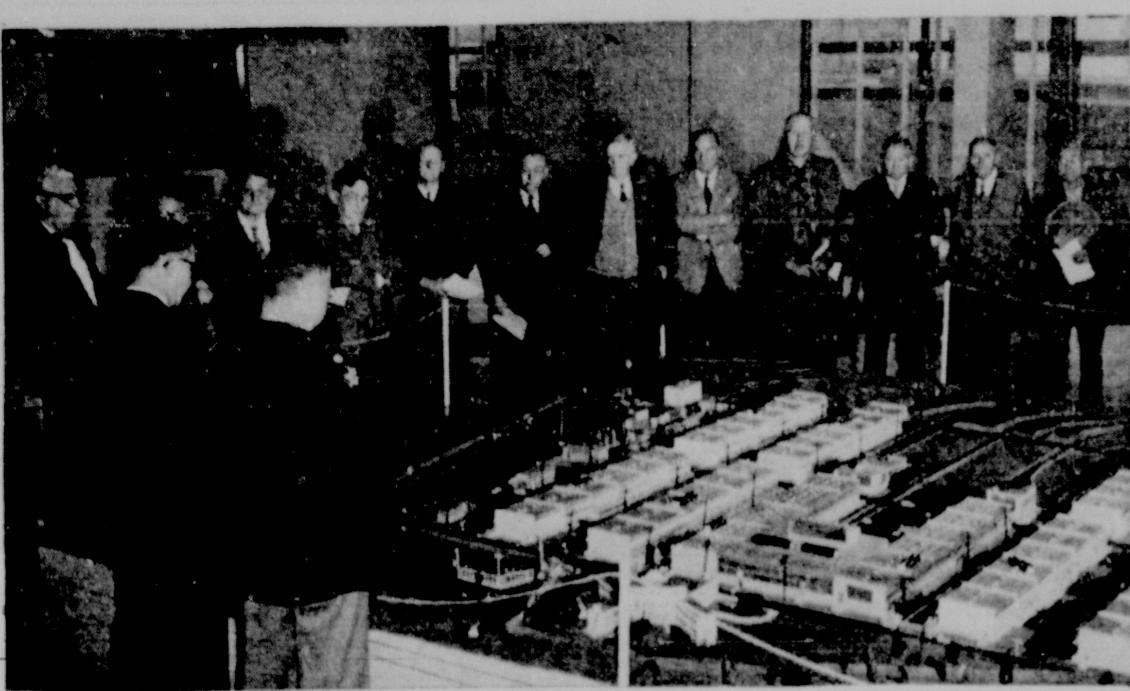

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 7 (P)—The International Olympic Committee request that Spain and Holland reconsider their decisions to withdraw from the Melbourne Olympics received a quick no in reply from the Dutch. Meanwhile the Swiss debated if they should withdraw.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the IOC, cabled the Spanish and Dutch committees and asked them to reconsider their decisions of yesterday to withdraw from Russia's actions in Hungary and the appearance of the Soviet athletes in Melbourne.

Dr. J. Onthorst Homan, president of the Holland committee, promptly replied: "Our decision is MORA GROUP VISITS DEPOT — Thirteen members of the MORA [Men of Retirement Age] Club of the Stroudsburg YMCA, visited the Tobyhanna Signal Depot yesterday. The group pictured above are being welcomed at the depot by Lt. Colonel Bob H. Glover, acting depot commander, and Glenn E. Grubbs, Administrative Officer, who oriented the group on the history, mission and layout of the huge modern Signal Corps installation. The group was then escorted on a walking tour through the various offices and shops throughout the depot receiving orientations on the many operations. The men had lunch in the depot's cafeteria, saw the movie, "Nerves of the Army," the story of the Signal Corps and made a bus tour of the installation.

Musicians Nominate Full Slate Of Current Officers

BANGOR—Incumbent officers were unanimously nominated for 1957 terms by Bangor-Stroudsburg Local 577, American Federation of Musicians, during the meeting at union headquarters here Tuesday night.

The home association nominated Joseph Falcone as president; Nelo Maso, secretary-treasurer, and William Diehl, Harold Rice, Fred Sabatino, Kenneth Brown and Roger Miller, directors.

The union nominated Carl Rice as president; Fred Sabatino, vice president; Willis Brown, secretary; Kenneth Brown, business secretary and William Diehl, Harold Rice, Joseph Falcone, Roger Miller, Nelo Maso and Ernest Lohman, directors.

Formality

Elections, a formality since all of the above are unopposed, are scheduled for the December session.

Falcone directed the gathering of the home association, with Maso submitting the reports of his office. Rice was in charge at the regular union meeting, during which two new members, Mrs. Nonna Reish, of Stroudsburg RD, and Philip Vongill, of Pen Argyl, were accepted.

Scouts Work On Badges

BANGOR — First class badge work occupied the attention of members of Girl Scout Troop 81 during the assembly at the First United Evangelical Church Monday. Carol Albert, president, was in charge. Mrs. Elwood Seyfried, leader, and Ann Seyfried, assistant, supervised.

Among the other scouts present were Orloq Handelung, Jean Kluska, Nancy Hocking, Marie Duvo, Linda Lobb, Karen Cowling, Judy Luscombe, Judy Schultz, Judy Share, Antonio Turzio, Karen Strout, Margaret Hamm, Linda Matlock, and Debbie Sandler.

Five County Property Deeds Recorded At Court House

MR. AND MRS. John Zugel, and Mrs. William H. Weiss, Stroud Township, have transferred two buildings and land in Pocono Township to Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Metzger and Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Kloft for $20,000.

The transfer was recorded in a deed filed yesterday in the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

The Daily Record's Home And Building Page

TODAY'S RISING land costs make this modern three-bedroom house ideal for a budget-minded family. The house was designed to make full use of a narrow lot for both indoor and outdoor living.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N. Y., combined a low-slope roof of colorful asphalt shingles with natural stone and redwood siding to give the house its modern exterior.

Matern specified asphalt shingles for the roof because this type of roofing is available in a wide choice of colors, is durable, and economical to apply. Houses with low-slope roofs now can have these advantages of asphalt shingles thanks to a recently developed method of application.

Inside the house has a family room, two baths, fireplace, sliding glass doors leading to all outdoor living areas, plus many other comforts and conveniences of modern living.

One important comfort feature specified by the architect is thick mineral wool insulation throughout. The mineral wool will keep the house warmer and more economical to heat in winter and cooler during the summer months.

Additional information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-05 61st St., Jamaica, L. I., N. Y. Refer to Plan No. 9463.

Careful Use Will Prolong Life Of Kitchen Sinks

A FEW SIMPLE rules regarding sink care will keep this fixture through a long life of service, as beautiful looking as the day it was installed.

Wash the sink with soap and water immediately after each use. Avoid use of abrasive cleansers that could ultimately mar the glossy finish. There are safe cleaners for removing stubborn stains, available from a plumbing contractor.

Acids

Do not allow fruit or vegetable juices or cleaning acids to remain for any length of time on the surface of a sink. A few hours is safe enough with an acid-resistant sink, but nothing beyond that.

Tea and coffee also will stain enameled sinks, if permitted to remain very long. Photographic developing solutions should never be permitted to come in contact with a sink.

Enamelled drainboards and the sink itself should never be used for chopping ice or foodstuffs. Chipping of the enamel may result from this practice. Aluminum pots and pans should not be permitted to scrape across a sink bottom, because of hard-to-remove stains that result.

Steel Will Pit

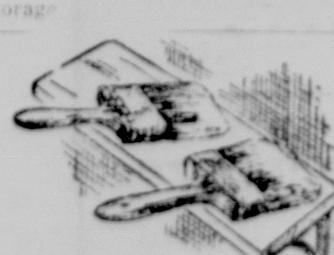

WHILE stainless steel won't rust certain items such as salt and food acids will pit the metal if left in contact with it for too long.

Shut Off Water

BEFORE YOU replace the packing in a leaky-shutoff valve, turn off the water supply to that particular valve.

Flush Door Handy Item For Projects

THE FLUSH door is a handy item for do-it-yourself projects. It has proved successful as a surface for buffet table, coffee and utility table.

Even old doors are covered with plastic coated tension type laminate, available in some 25 popular colors or wood-grain finishes to lend an added incentive to creative homemakers.

How to go about it?

The experts (who make everything sound so simple) say to take your surface covering, and wood or wrought iron legs (they suggest 28 inches for a buffet height) to start. Then equip yourself with 1/4 inch wooden corner moldings and tools—hammer, nails, cross-cut saw, miter box, screwdriver, pliers, file and drill. Mastic is required to cement the new surface to the door.

Old Door

If an old door is used, all hardware should be removed from the door, and the door is cut to the desired size. Then cut the laminate so that it will fit flush over the door. The legs are placed over each corner of the door, the screw hole is marked with a pencil, and the legs are attached to the door with flat head screws.

The door described here used a surface of 1/10 inch decorative laminate. Mastic was spread over the entire surface first, then the material was carefully placed over the door. The material comes to you curved so that it may be easily smoothed flat on any sound surface. Cut the molding strips in a miter box to get a good corner fit.

File off sharp corners down after the molding is nailed on. The slightly exposed edge of the old door should be painted and molding shellacked. After the second coat is applied the table should be finished.

Mrs. J. Wallingford

The Lutheran Council held its November meeting at the Wallingford home. The new envelopes have arrived and will be distributed. The following councilmen attended: Rev. E. T. Horn, Herman Paul, Bill Bond, Morgan Butz, Roy Paul, James Frable, Glenn Wallingford, Cliff Wallingford. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clair Wallingford. Mrs. E. T. Horn and Mrs. Herman Paul accompanied their husbands and visited with the ladies.

Mrs. Wayne Wallingford, children Peggy and David and Mrs. Elwood Warner of Swiftwater spent Saturday in Allentown.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bensel son Charles Jr. attended a wedding of their niece in Scranton on Saturday.

This will avoid creating a shadow with the hand that's writing.

Trap May Cause Noise

IT DOESN'T make any difference whether light comes over your right or left shoulder when reading.

For writing or sewing, however, the light should be at the left for a right-handed person and at the right for a left-handed person.

This will avoid creating a shadow with the hand that's writing.

Trap May Cause Noise

A SUCKING sound in a sink, bathtub or laboratory is usually caused by siphoning of the trap and is difficult to correct in an existing house.

Best preventatives are correct traps and vent piping.

Greater Holding Power

METAL MENDING plates, often used to reinforce the joints on furniture and storm windows, will have greater holding power if they are recessed into the wood so that the top surface of the mending plate is level with the surface of the wood.

George Hartshorn who enjoyed a week vacation has resumed his duties as assistant manager at the A & P Mount Pocono.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Wallingford children Sharon and Bobby spent Sunday in Greentown with relatives.

Miss Marie Bonser was an overnight guest Saturday with her schoolmate Miss Linda Paul.

Miss Lynn Frable a first grader at the Reeder's school has contracted chicken pox.

Minority Candidates, Constitutional Query
Fail To Draw Much Attention In Election

MINORITY candidates and the Constitutional question failed to drum up much interest among Monroe County voters in Tuesday's general elections.

Only 11 per cent — or 1,716 — of the 15,411 persons who went to the polls bothered to register their sentiment on the proposal:

To amend the State Constitution to delete the requirement that stock and indebtedness of private corporations may not be increased without the stockholders' consent obtained at a meeting held after 60 days notice.

Count
Of those who did register an

Wide Spread Interest In Spiritual Healing

By Paul Carlson

THERE IS MUCH talk in our day of psychosomatic medicine and spiritual healing.

A recent survey by the National Council of Churches revealed that 34 percent of Protestant ministers attempt spiritual healing.

Of the 460 clergymen who replied, 160 answered affirmatively the question: "Have you ever as a minister attempted to perform a spiritual healing?" The affirmative replies came most heavily from metropolitan areas, such as St. Paul, Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia.

"By far the greater number replied, 'Recovery,' or 'Complete Recovery,'" according to Dr. Charles S. Braden, a Methodist clergyman, who directed the study among 982 clergymen throughout the country.

STRESS

Stressing that the future of spiritual healing lies in cooperation with medical science, not in competition with it, Dr. Braden noted that the largest single illness reported as successfully cured was cancer.

However, responsible clergymen were quick to condemn "the patient attempt to use God merely as a means to our own goal, whether it be success, blooming health or wealth."

Roman Catholics have for years supported the work at Lourdes, where many cases of healing have been reported and verified by competent medical men.

Because of the current interest in spiritual healing, The Daily Record has invited two local clergymen to express their views on the subject.

REV. CHARLES A. PARK,

Christ Episcopal Church,
Stroudsburg:
"It may come as a surprise to many that the Lord provided His Church from its beginning with a ministry of healing which does not depend for its efficacy upon high pressure publicity, a circus atmosphere, the glassy stare of television cameras and repeated appeals for increased monetary offerings.

"And with the modern rediscovery in the secular world of the so-called psychosomatic nature of many ills, it may come as a further surprise to many that the Church has always known that man's body and soul interacted in each other so that the illness of one generally led to the illness of the other, and likewise the health of one generally meant the health of the other."

"Now that we are becoming more conscious of the psychosomatic nature of much illness, it is particularly significant that we should find embedded in the tradition and practice of Christ's Church a means of grace whose object is to assist in the restoration of wholeness of body as well as soul. It is probably for this reason that there is an increasing emphasis throughout the Episcopal Church upon the healing ministry, which endeavors to bring the resources of the Gospel along with the best medical and psychiatric skill to those who are afflicted in body or mind. This spiritual healing is not to be confused with 'faith healing' which may lead to emotionalism, chicanery and a pseudo-religious quackery."

The Episcopal Church's ministry of healing centers upon the sacrament of the unction of the sick, which is one of the seven sacraments of the Church and can only be administered to the members and by the priests or bishops of the Church. Its effect is to strengthen the sick person in spirit and in body; it does not necessarily cure, and it is, of course, in no way a substitute for the work of the physician or surgeon. The doctor and priest are both God's ministers of healing.

The sacrament of unction or anointing of the sick is found on authority of St. James 5:14-16, and supported by St. Mark 6:13. In St. James Epistle we read that in the earliest days of the Church, when one was sick he called for "the elders of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; and the prayer of faith will save the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven."

The practice of anointing those in sickness has continued to be a sacrament of the Anglican Branch of the Holy Catholic Church down through the centuries.

The Prayer Book directs that the priest may use a prayer in which he says: "I anoint thee with oil, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; beseeching the mercy of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that all thy pain and sickness of body being put to flight, the blessing of health may be restored unto thee."

Following this is another prayer in which God is asked not only to "drive away all pain of soul and body," but also to "release thy servant from sin." As in all sacraments, here an outward and visible means is being employed so that an inward and spiritual grace (or gift) may be received from God.

Man is both body and spirit.

He always has been a psychosomatic creature, a kind of amphibian living in two worlds, the physical and the spiritual, and in his double nature linking them together.

A creature born of the earth yet destined for heaven. To save man in his wholeness, the Son of God became the Son of Man.

And body and soul, man is to be raised up to everlasting life by the power of Christ's resurrection.

"It is a little ironic that we 'moderns' should be happily rediscovering what the Church has known for 20 centuries. The neglect of unction is no doubt due to defective faith. Human nature craves for what unction is divinely given to supply. It is the wise Christian who, falling ill, calls for his priest as well as his doctor. For both, if they be true to their vocations, are servants of God provided to minister to man's double-nature. Both are channels of God's healing grace."

REV. JOHN A. BOLLIER, First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg

"Matthew tells us of the threefold ministry of Jesus in Chapter 9, verse 35 of His Gospel when he writes, 'And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity.' The Church as the Body of Christ is commissioned to carry on this three-fold ministry of preaching, teaching and healing. While the Church has often failed in fulfilling this commission, it has failed most miserably in the ministry of healing. We have our dynamic preachers and brilliant teachers. But where are our effective healers?

"Because the Church has failed so dreadfully in this area of its commission, the so-called faith healing sects have arisen to fill

The Green ThumbTree Ivy Popular Item For Adding Something Different In Foliage For Home Decorations

THE TREE IVY: Looking for something different in foliage plants for decorating your home? Try the Tree Ivy, or Fatsidea (pronounced Fats-said-ea), a hybrid resulting from a cross between Fatsia japonica, a small Japanese tree, and our English Ivy, Hedera Helix. You can buy a single potted plant from your florist very reasonably, and it's a simple job to train it to climb a totem pole or a stiff wire.

The leaves of the tree ivy look similar to those of the maple, being green and rather leathery. There are no flowers or colorful foliage to catch your eye, but for something green in the home, you'll find the tree ivy quite rewarding. It can be trained by bending the "trunk" any way you wish. So far, we haven't seen any insects or diseases to trouble the vine, altho it's a good idea to keep an eye open for scale or aphids, pests which trouble other ivies.

Spraying with a hand sprayer to keep foliage free of dust and aphids. Do not grow the ivy in a hot, bright window as you're apt to scorch the foliage. Soil should be well drained, since the tree ivy (like all ivies) cannot tolerate wet feet.

Interior

The interior of the church has been redecorated with paint and paper and new white window shades. The new Sunday School room is finished and is used for the class of beginners, taught by Mrs. Clarence Haltzman, assistant to Miss Bonnie Miller.

Twenty-four boys were raised to the Chapter Farmer Degree. The initiation was conducted by a team from the Stroudsburg chapter composed of the following:

Paul Borden, Terry Bartle-

son, Pat Martin, Arlett Gannon, Gary Dotter, Pat Martin, Dick Flick, Willard Snyder, Robert Courtright and Steven Drake.

George Ott Sr., a recipient of the honorary American Farmer Degree, gave a report of the national FFA convention held in Kansas City last month.

Nominating committee consisted of Ronald Smith, Clair Altemose and Russell Kresge, all officials of the area chapter last year.

Seventy-seven members, together with six advisers, attended the meeting as follows:

Bangor, 14; Chestnuthill, 11;

Pen Argyl, 19; Polk, 17, and Stroud-burg, 16.

Refreshments were served by the Pen Argyl chapter.

Composer Frederick Chopin, wrote almost entirely for the piano. He made it a leading instrument in symphonic orchestras.

Question Box

D. E. of Stroudsburg: "I always raise good vegetables in our garden, but have poor luck storing them. Our celery never keeps, pumpkins spoil, and potatoes shrivel up. I'd like some information on the home storage of vegetables."

The right temperature is the most important factor in keeping fruits and vegetables in the home. With few exceptions, the best temperature is at or very near 32 degs—the freezing point of water—but in the modern home, this is impossible to attain. If you can build yourself a small storage room away from the rest of the basement and insulate it, you should have good luck storing your produce. A storage room 8 x 10 feet will be big enough for most families, and it should be located in the northeast or northwest corner of the basement, and away from the chimney or heating pipes.

Dirt floors are a thing of the past in cells, but you can cover your cement floor with 6 inches of soil or sand to help hold moisture in the storage room. Most vegetables shrivel fast unless stored in a moist atmosphere. Shriveling can be prevented by keeping the air quite moist, in the storage room, and by protecting the vegetables by wrapping or putting them in closed containers.

Pumpkins and squash store best if a part of the stem is left on each one. They also like a warm, dry storage (30 to 60 degs. is ok).

Vegetables requiring a cool (35 to 40 degs.) dry storage include onions, dried beans and peas. Those that like a cool, moist storage include all root crops (beets, carrots and parsnips, potatoes and cabbage, to name a few). None of these items need light, and potatoes especially should be kept in the dark or they'll turn green.

A garbage can sunk in the garden makes a fine storage container for your vegetables during winter months. Or better still, if you can get a discarded refrigerator and sink it backside down into the garden, you'll have a real storage bin for both fruits and vegetables. We tried this and the produce kept perfectly until May, even though the lowest temperature reading was 26 below zero.

TULIPS: This department has been asked if it's possible to plant tulip bulbs in a metal-flower box for the porch. This cannot be done unless the box is packed with straw around the top, bottom and sides to prevent the soil from freezing solid. Although tulips are hardy they will not come through if the soil freezes solid. If you want to start an early window box of tulips, you can plant the bulbs in the box and keep it in the cellar until spring, then bring the entire box out on the porch where it'll produce blooms for you. If you're troubled with mice or chipmunks eating the bulbs, scatter some naphthalene flakes or moth balls on the surface, or better still put a small flower pot over each bulb to discourage the rodents.

Collection Plates Given To Church

AT THE SUNDAY morning service of Wooddale Union Church, Rev. Justin Feltham, spoke on "Christian Assurance."

During the service Miss Evelyn Cramer, president of the Youth Fellowship in their behalf presented to the church two hardwood collection plates and a Cradle Roll.

Interior

The interior of the church has been redecorated with paint and paper and new white window shades. The new Sunday School room is finished and is used for the class of beginners, taught by Mrs. Clarence Haltzman, assistant to Miss Bonnie Miller.

The furniture at present consists of two tables and twelve chairs. Later a blackboard and more teaching equipment will be added.

The trustees of the church wish to thank all who helped by their time and money to build the additional room to the church.

THE 1957 GOLDEN HAWK, lead model in Studebaker's line of sports-type cars, will be demonstrated today in dealerships across the country including Pocono Automobile Co., Stroudsburg, and B. E. Webber's Garage, East Stroudsburg. The five-passenger, family size hardtop is only 56 inches high, but 17 feet long. It has a 275-horsepower, 289-cubic inch V-8 engine equipped with a supercharger as standard equipment. Dual exhausts, race car-inspired instrument panel including tachometer and vacuum-pressure gauge, non-slip power-dividing differential, non-fade brakes and padded dashboards are leading features. In addition to the Golden Hawk, the line includes the Silver Hawk V-8 and Silver Hawk six coupes. Wheelbases of 120 1/2 inches on these models are the longest in the low price field.

Film For Kiwanis

BANGOR — A current film, "The House of Grace," will be shown at the dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Colonial Hotel today at 6:30 p.m.

Paper Drive Scheduled

A UNITED paper drive will be conducted, beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, by the Boy and Girl Scouts of Delaware Water Gap.

Studebaker Offers Two Body Styles

A NEW soft, level ride on rough roads, new driving control on slippery roads, and increased performance with the most powerful engines in Studebaker's history are top features of the Studebaker sedans for 1957 that go on display today at Pocono Auto Co., Stroudsburg, and B. E. Weber's Garage, East Stroudsburg.

The sharply re-styled line of 15 sedans and station wagons completely covers the low price field. To date, Studebaker is the only automobile to offer a choice of two body styles . . . one with the prominent fins that keynote '57 models; and another without the prominent fins, apt to be less sharply dated.

Standard

Standard on all sedans, variable rate control of front coil springing achieves for the first time the long sought advantages of combining the stiffer springing action needed for a smooth ride sensation on rough road surfaces and the softer springing necessary for a smooth ride on city boulevards.

The new type of suspension automatically adjusts to varying loads throughout the spring ranges, to give the same soft ride with one to five passengers as is obtained by conventional coil spring suspensions only under heavy loads. At the same time, it provides new driver control of the car on rough surfaces by substantially reducing pitching.

Also new is the Twin-Traction safety differential, first-time on a car not in the luxury price class. Basically this feature divides engine power between the rear wheels to stop wheel slipping and spinning under adverse driving situations such as mud, ice, and a true Monroe County Winter.

Dr. Moore Speaks At Bangor High

BANGOR — Dr. Theodore M. Moore, director of admissions, State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, was the consultant at a vocational guidance conference on teaching held at the Bangor Area Joint High School Tuesday afternoon.

Fifty-five members of the 12th and ninth grades attended the conference, sponsored jointly by the Bangor Kiwanis and Exchange Clubs and the Guidance Department of the school.

Picture

Dr. Moore gave an overall picture of teaching as a career, pointing out personal requirements necessary for success, college entrance procedures and policies, cost, description of the college, and factors that make for success in college.

The conference concluded with a general question and answer period.

Prior to Dr. Moore's presentation, the students saw a film on teaching projected by Alan McFall and Charles Cole of the Visual Aids Club.

Arnold Wynne, guidance counselor, served as chairman of the conference.

Boys Class Meets At LaBar Home

BANGOR — The Pioneer Boys Class of Mackey Memorial Baptist Church met at the home of William LaBar, Ackermanville, Monday night. LaBar is the president of the group. Refreshments were served by his mother, Mrs. Earl LaBar.

Donald Rouck read the scripture. The Rev. Henry C. Wray, pastor, offered prayer. George Strunk, Jr., teacher, gave the secretary's report. Next month's session was arranged for the residence of Robert Jones. Rodney Muhlen will be the devotional leader. Officers are to be elected.

Richard Muhlen, Joseph Handong and Donald Mack also attended.

The first Olympics in known history were held in 776 B.C.

Ministers Discuss Healing

the vacuum we have created. And by their excesses they have often brought discredit to the whole ministry of healing, so that the older church have been even more reluctant to have anything to do with spiritual healing. Moreover, we have lulled ourselves into complacency because we think the progress of scientific medicine has completely fulfilled the church's responsibility to heal.

But thankful as we are for medicine, surgery and psychiatry, we cannot consider that the church's work in healing is finished because these other branches of healing are doing their work so well.

"It is apparent that Jesus ministered to the whole man, and not just part of man, whether it be body, mind or spirit. When the paralytic was carried to Jesus for healing, Jesus said to him first, 'Take heart, my son, your sins are forgiven.' This man's first need was the healing of his spirit, that he might enter into a right relationship with God. That having been accomplished, Jesus then said to him, 'Rise, take up your bed and walk.' And immediately the man's body was healed also. Thus, he became whole once again in body and in spirit.

"Moreover, we can learn from Jesus' ministry of healing that God is the real healer in any healing process. God is still the Healer today. Healing is God's activity and it is the human healer's task to learn to cooperate with God in the most effective and most relevant way.

God, it seeks no benefits—no advantages. "It makes no bargains and does not try to lead God around by the nose, or tell Him: 'I'll believe in you, if you heal me.'
